The President has nominated John Mason for Surveyor General of Arizona.

The Senate passed the bill granting $50 per month to the widow of General Canby

In the House Wells from the Committee on Pacific Railroads moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill requiring the various branches of the Pacific Railroad to be operated as a continuous line, and providing penalties for making discriminations against other companies and declaring the Denver and Pacific Railroad a part of the extension of the Kansas Pacific Railroad. Agreed to without division.

Prospect of an Early Adjournment.

WASHINGTON June 2—There is no longer any doubt of the adjournment of Congress on the 22d. The House business is well advanced. The Senate is behind which gives the lobby considerable advantage in its efforts to defeat by delay legislation inimical to their interests. The sentiment of the House was clearly shown yesterday and indicates that it will order a Contract and Finance ... if the subject is brought out of the Committee so the House can reach it.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO June 2—Victoria Woodhull will lecture to night on the social evil. Her address last night has caused much comment and a greater portion of it severely denounced by the press

The announcement that blight has attacked and destroyed many hundred acres of potatoes back of Mission and from there to Half Moon Bay has caused serious apprehension of a short supply and high prices during the present season. This is the first time disease has made its appearance here.

Greenbacks, 89 1/4 @ 90

The steamer Orizaba sailed for San Diego and way ports to day with a full list of passengers and a large amount of freight

SAN FRANCISCO June 2—Eureka Consolidated Mining Company has declared a dividend of one dollar per share amounting to $50,000 payable on the 6th

The Los Angeles Savings Bank has been incorporated and some of its stock is held by prominent merchants in this city.

There is a perfect jam at Platt's Hall to night to hear Victoria Woodhull on social evil

During the month of May Consolidated Virginia sent to this city on account, $413,400

Donald McKay and his Warm Spring Indians left for San Jose to day

SAN FRANCISCO June 2—It was anticipated that trouble might occur at Platt's Hall to night during Woodhull's lecture on the social evil and a strong force of police was detailed to keep order but thus far their services have not been needed. An immense crowd mostly men are present

Interior California.

TRUCKEE June 2—A drunken row occurred at Stuhlman's Bakery between three men resulting in the killing of Edward Sheridan. The deceased first attacked David Palmer, one of the men engaged in the row and threw him down in the street. Afterwards, the parties threw rocks at each other and fighting continued in this way several minutes. The combatants finally closed together in a tussle during which Palmer drew a knife and stabbed Sheridan several times in the region of the heart. After the stabbing Palmer ran away. Sheridan walked into the bakery, sat down in a chair and died in less than five minutes. Palmer was arrested by Constable Getchell

CORTMAN, June 2—While Andrew Vanderwerff well known here as Pan Potter was working his claim yesterday by himself, a bank caved upon him. The sand and rocks covered him so that he could not move or give the alarm. After laying there for 24 hours and suffering terribly he was discovered to day and taken out alive. He was sensible and spoke some, but soon died.

SANTA BARBARA, June 2—The result of the election is 119 in the city and 39 in the township against license.

MARYSVILLE June 2—The case of George Bushby who was indicted by the last Grand Jury for murder of Brady near Smartsville, March 25th has been on trial for the past week in the District Court. Argument of counsel occupied all of yesterday and up to 12:30 to-day, when the case was given to the jury. After absence of an hour and a half, they brought in a verdict of not guilty.

DOWNIEVILLE, June 2—A saloon keeper named John Owens living at Sierra City attempted suicide this morning by shooting himself in the mouth with a revolver. The ball cut his tongue passed into the back part of his head and lodged behind the ear. He was alive when the stage left but the doctor thought he could not live.

NEVADA.

HAMILTON, June 2—A terrible shooting affray occurred at Eberhardt about 6 P M. Pat Casey, night watchman at Eberhardt, when going to his work, met his foster brother, Tom Casey, who was crazy drunk, and who without provocation drew his revolver and commenced shooting at Pat's dog, and turning suddenly upon Pat who was standing a few feet distant fired two shots at him, one taking effect in his left side just above the hip and lodging in the groin. Pat fell to the ground and said "Come and help me up Tom. I don't think I am badly hurt." Tom replied, "I am too mean a man to live any way," and, putting a pistol to his forehead, blew his brains out

An awful story of revenge is told by the Helena Montana Herald as follows. During one of the skirmishing fights had by the Yellowstone expedition with the Indians the nephew of Yates the man who was killed succeeded in shooting an Indian. Rushing upon the dying red skin the nephew unsheathed a large knife and cut the savage's heart out and with the same instrument deliberately proceeded to disembowel the quivering carcass of the Indian. Stepping back with a smile of satisfaction lighting up his countenance he quietly remarked "Now I am even for the killing of my uncle."

The difficulty between the Navajos and the Mormon settlements west of the Colorado is unsettled. It appears that two Indians were recently killed by the Mormons being shot down without the least provocation, and their tribe is bent on revenge. The Mormons are alarmed and several messengers have been sent from Salt Lake to General Army, at Fort Defiance, proposing indemnification to the Navajos for the two slain, and guarantee for the future but no positive arrangement has yet been made. In the meantime the Mormons are collecting around their strongest settlements and preparing for defense if the Navajos will not have peace

WEDNESDAY MORNING JUNE [illegible] 1874

THE PEOPLE VICTORIOUS

All those who do not bow the knee to the Holladay Hipple regency unite in mutual congratulations and rejoicing over the great victory won at the polls on Monday last. As the news comes in from different parts of the State it is made apparent that we were correct yesterday morning in saying that the vote in the railway towns, which was first reported formed no reliable criterion by which to estimate the entire vote of the State. We understood perfectly the causes that had brought about the results in those places, and were confident that the reasons had not operated in those sections lying remote from the line of the railway. It turns out that the farmers felt too deeply interested in those questions that relate to their material prosperity and welfare to be led into supporting ring candidates simply because of a party nomination. The ring will not control the next Legislature. On the contrary it will be in the hands of those who have united and made common cause against ring dictation.

It is almost certain that Tolman ring candidate for Governor and Williams ring candidate for Congress are beaten. The little April shower of votes that fell along the railway was their only shower so far as heard from. It had been industriously worked up at these more accessible points by the ring manipulators that those who preferred Tolman to Grover but Campbell to either, should be hoodwinked into voting for Tolman on the ground that Campbell had no show for an election and that by voting for Tolman Grover's defeat would be rendered certain. And when a Campbell man was found who preferred Grover to Tolman, he was induced, if possible, to believe that the only way to beat Tolman was to vote for Grover. Thus the ring managers endeavored to secure Tolman's election first, and, that failing, to elect Grover in order to beat Campbell. By this means a large number of votes were drawn away from Campbell which he would have received in anything like a fair race. This plan was worked mainly in favor of Tolman. But so far as can be judged at present Tolman falls behind both the others despite this unfair mode of warfare, and Campbell presses Grover very hard but Grover is in all probability re-elected by a small plurality.

E. D. Shattuck, People's candidate for Justice of the Supreme Court is elected over the ring candidate by a larger majority than any candidate for that office ever received before. This is really the most important victory of the people, and is worth all the effort that has been made even if everything else had been lost.

BOSS SHEPHERD GETS AFRAID OF HIS FRIENDS

The good people of Washington City are about to be deprived of the right of self-government, and the Washington Chronicle is finely indignant thereat. This outrage is to be accomplished through the instrumentality of an act of Congress, of which Senator Stewart of Nevada claims the paternity. The bill for this purpose was introduced on the 4th of May by the Nevada Senator, and on the 5th he was duly castigated by Governor Shepherd's newspaper.

Senator Stewart is a Republican and supposed to sustain very cordial relations with the National Administration. Governor Shepherd, of the District of Columbia, is likewise a Republican, and no one who has read the papers with any degree of care during the last year, and especially no one who was at Washington last October to witness the efforts of the Administration to have the Governor's previous management of public affairs endorsed by a popular vote of the people of the District, would doubt that the Governor is also on friendly terms with the White House. Thus it is that the Governor is greatly surprised and exercised at the apparition of this Republican Senator bringing forward in the Republican Congress a bill to abolish him and his entire establishment. He declares it is all very well for Congress to take such control of the District, provided Congress and the President have come to the conclusion that the people of the District are incapable of self-government. It is extremely difficult to conceive how it would be possible for Congress or the President to arrive by any logical course of reasoning at any other conclusion than that suggested by the Chronicle, if the management of the affairs of the District of late are to be credited to the people and not to the National Government. We can see no earthly answer to be made to the charge of incapacity implied in Senator Stewart's bill, if it can be proven the people of the District, or a majority of them, approve of the manner in which their affairs have been administered by Shepherd. Stewart's bill simply proposes to abolish the Legislative Council of the District, do away with the office of Governor and vest the entire oversight of the District in a board of five Commissioners, who are to report all their proceedings at stated times to Congress. This looks, at the first blush, like jumping out of the frying pan into the fire. If the Chronicle would put its objections upon that ground it is quite probable that the intelligence of the country would be induced to take the side of the distressed Governor. But if the objection is to be based upon the right of the sovereign people of the District of Columbia to govern themselves it will fail to enlist the sympathies of thinking people to any great extent for the two very good and sufficient reasons that the present Government of the District is a government by the people they are [illegible] for self-government and it is not they are deprived [illegible] by Stewart's bill.

Shattuck must be beaten [illegible] must be Mr Hipple. Have you read the people's answer to [illegible] The only way to beat him was to [illegible] and there was just a little bit too much hazard in that enterprise. The Custom House agents of the bigamous Senator did not want any of that chicken pie especially after that little passage between a prominent Front street merchant and the [illegible] editorship of the ring organ.

There is crape on the [illegible] Custom House ring.

A QUIET ELECTION

There has never before been so quiet and orderly an election in Portland as that of Monday. While the friends of the candidates were active and zealous in urging the claims of their favorites, and a great deal of earnest work was done on all sides, there were but few instances of anything like disorderly conduct, and these were quickly suppressed.

The effect of the closing of business houses and the attendance of business men at the polls was very salutary in preserving order and doubtless in preventing attempts at fraudulent voting. The presence of a large number of respectable citizens at the voting places exerted a restraining influence upon the crowd who gathered round to press the fortunes of the candidates. And what with these moral forces and the wholesome fear with which the exposures and prosecutions heretofore and the vigilance of the police inspired the corrupters of the ballot box there were few who had the hardihood to offer or take a bribe. One or two illegal votes were offered and the ring made a faint attempt to sustain the fraudulent voters, but the latter speedily found themselves in durance vile. These attempts were made early in the forenoon and their disastrous terminations prevented all further effort in that direction. There was a good deal of money spent by the ring candidates for Sheriff and Clerk but mostly before the day of election, and for the purpose of subsidizing "skilled labor" to "work" for them in getting up sentiment in their favor and running in voters. This is of course, an indefensible expenditure of money for election purposes but it is quite different from the out and out purchasing of votes that has heretofore enabled the ring to carry elections.

The well known ship Custom House Ring has started on a voyage up Salt River with Benjamin Holladay, Esq. as master, the gallant John Hipple as first officer, H. W. Scott as engineer, J. L. Caples as fireman. The rest of the crew and the passengers are mostly individuals who are well if not favorably known to this community. Mr David Powell goes along to stoke in Caples' place when the latter gets "wretchedly ill."

The back of the Custom House clique is broken. The people have repudiated that concern with its corruptions and its frauds. The most infamous ring that ever was formed in Oregon, and which has preyed upon the people for a long time, is at last trampled down and spit upon by an indignant public.

When the Devil was sick,
The Devil cried, etc.

Or words to that effect. Let it rot in pieces.

On last Monday Dave Powell was struck dead by the people of Multnomah county for lying. The young men and the old men carried him out and buried him, as Ananias of old was buried. And now H. W. Scott hears at the door the sound of the feet of them that buried his only rival coming to carry him out also. Better commit suicide, Scott.

The people have testified what they think of the slanderers of Judge Shattuck. The lie they circulated about him cost them many a vote. Carey, if you had been virtuous throughout the temptations of the campaign you would be less unhappy now.

Wonder if John Hipple has heard of anything "lurking along the shores" of Multnomah county? The much wived and much named Senator has probably learned very definitely by this time what the people of his own county think of him.

Probably the most elongated countenances that have ever been seen upon the streets of Portland are those presented by the leaders of the ring just at this time. They look more like masks intended for a funeral drama than real faces.

Hillsboro precinct Washington county gives Shattuck 140 votes and Carey Johnson 1[illegible]. Forest Grove precinct, Shattuck 1[illegible]8 Johnson 46. Wapato precinct Shattuck [illegible] Johnson 2[illegible]. Beaver Dam Shattuck 85 Johnson [illegible].

We are unable to present our readers with full returns of the election in this county. Several of the county precincts are not yet in. These will give a majority for the People's ticket.

Wonder if those who said the Independent movement had no bottom to it haven't begun to change their ideas on the subject a little by this time.

They do say there was a party by the name of Johnson nominated as the ring candidate for Judge of the Fourth District. What has become of him?

Isn't it rather indelicate for Caruthers to act as judge of an election in which he is a candidate for an important office.

Just think of it. Multnomah county has been wrested from the grasp of the ring. Who would believe it.

"It amounts to nothing. Only a few sore heads, that's all."—H. W. Scott.

That's all is it?

We will meet you at Philippi.—M. Brutus.

What are you going to do about it?—H. W. Scott.

[illegible] We notice [illegible] association [illegible] encourage [illegible] As there [illegible] in the port of [illegible] beginning, to take [illegible] exchanges [illegible] Mr. W. J. West [illegible] the Humboldt Fancier [illegible] that runners were [illegible] turn the tide of [illegible] from the [illegible] California [illegible] Oregon [illegible] The representative [illegible] Mr. W. H. [illegible] Mr. West [illegible] has been [illegible] the serious [illegible] makes some suggestion [illegible] can be reached. Messrs. [illegible] write in reply [illegible] that [illegible] influence [illegible] San Francisco [illegible] towards the southern [illegible] California and Arizona [illegible] measures should be taken [illegible] Various plans [illegible] remedy this evil. The [illegible] pamphlets and papers [illegible] the Eastern States [illegible] of our citizens [illegible] failed of its object as [illegible] reached the [illegible] here and the plan of [illegible] San Francisco seems equally [illegible] an agent sitting [illegible] in a thousand of [illegible] its arrival, there [illegible] the plan suggested [illegible] an agent travel with [illegible] day before they reach [illegible] with proper information [illegible] devour with the [illegible] effective and [illegible] way to accomplish [illegible] and we hope our citizens [illegible] important matter.

RETURNED HOME.—After an absence of [illegible] a week Dr. Alfred Kinney returned [illegible] from [illegible] the mountains. Dr. [illegible] was called [illegible] away last week by [illegible] to the effect that his father had met [illegible] accident near Willow Creek [illegible] Dr. Augustus Kinney also accompanied him. Mr. R. C. Kinney was living [illegible] his ranch about [illegible] miles from the [illegible] the time of the accident. A team [illegible] driving, attached to a large roller, took [illegible] and ran off. Mr. Kinney, who is very large [illegible] fleshy, was thrown off and one end of the [illegible] passed over the right leg. No bones were [illegible] broken but the flesh was badly bruised. Fortunately the ground was soft where the roller [illegible] over the limb, or else it would have [illegible] crushed to a jelly. The leg was carefully dressed and the old gentleman rendered [illegible] comfortable as possible under the circumstances. Dr. Augustus Kinney was left [illegible] to bestow necessary medical attention [illegible] injured man will probably not be able to [illegible] again for some weeks.

CLOSING SERVICES OF THE BISHOP SCOTT GRAMMAR AND DIVINITY SCHOOL.—The closing exercises of this institution began yesterday [illegible] a two days written examination. On [illegible] the exercises are public. Oral examination through the day from 9 A. M. to [illegible] day evening from 7½ P. M. is devoted [illegible] Rector's address, literary exercises, award of prizes, etc. On this evening will be the competitive speaking for the Deady Medal [illegible] reading of the prize essays [illegible] the Early [illegible] of the [illegible] Coast. The exercises [illegible] which all members of the school are [illegible] will be held in the [illegible] room of the [illegible]tution.

BRIDGE ACROSS THE WILLAMETTE.—[illegible] evening contemporary says: Since the [illegible] of Mr. Reid of Dundee, Scotland, but [illegible] has been said or done so far as the public [illegible] aware concerning his views of the [illegible] To-day we learned from a party who [illegible] know only by hearsay that this gentleman [illegible] much pleased with the prospect and [illegible] recommend his friends to form a company [illegible] build the bridge with as little delay as possible. There [illegible] understand that the exact location of the [illegible] is fair to presume that [illegible] will be placed at the point authorized [illegible] Government [illegible] as before whom the [illegible] and plan were duly laid.

WHARF PASSED.—Last winter a large [illegible] boat broke from her moorings by the [illegible] of a gale a few miles below Wallula and [illegible] drifted on the rocks and sunk. About [illegible] weeks ago Mr. Holland, chief builder [illegible] O. S. N. Co., went for the purpose [illegible] the sunken craft. He succeeded in accomplishing the difficult task beyond [illegible] expectations. In a few days the wharf boat [illegible] raised, beached, repaired, launched and [illegible] up to Wallula. This wharf boat is [illegible] long, 50 feet wide and has 7 feet [illegible]

CASE [illegible]—The cases of the [illegible] who were arrested on Monday charged [illegible] illegal voting will come up for trial in the [illegible] Police Court this morning. The parties [illegible] are J. Reed, a colored man, and [illegible] Donaldson. Reed claims he had been [illegible] entitled to vote [illegible] he had not resided in the county long enough to entitle him to do so. Donaldson who [illegible] procured his first papers a few [illegible] also attempted to vote but was prevented. Both parties were admitted to bail [illegible] examination of the cases will take place [illegible] morning.

WITH [illegible] RIVER.—Both the Columbia and Willamette rivers are still coming up [illegible] a vengeance. The Willamette has begun [illegible] spread [illegible] encroach on its [illegible] and overflow [illegible] lowlands. Eight feet [illegible] and the water will be in Front street [illegible] Stark street ferry landing. Annually [illegible] quantities of strawberries are destroyed [illegible] inundation [illegible] Columbia. Should [illegible] rivers continue [illegible] it is more than [illegible] that immense quantities of these berries [illegible] be destroyed.

GONE [illegible]—Mr. J. F. Crowell, who recently was connected with Madame [illegible] troupe [illegible] his departure for San Francisco on the [illegible] steamer. The [illegible] man has [illegible] of the local [illegible] Phelps [illegible] health [illegible] few [illegible] in [illegible] Mr. [illegible] has been [illegible] with the [illegible] experience.

WEDNESDAY MORNING JUNE 3 1874

CITY.

IMMIGRATION —We noticed an effort is being made to create an association to encourage immigration to Oregon, which we think is a move in the right direction. As there is need of such an effort on the part of our citizens some of whom are beginning to take a lively interest in the matter, and we notice also that several of our exchanges begin to mention it in serious earnestness Mr W L West a correspondent of the Willamette Farmer, reported several weeks ago that runners were employed at San Francisco to turn the tide of the large immigration now coming from the Eastern States towards Southern California and Arizona by misrepresenting Oregon etc and he suggests that we should be represented there by a competent agent Mr W H Dodge states in noticing Mr West's letter that this monstrous cheat has been practiced there for more than a year to the serious detriment of Oregon" and he makes some suggestions as to how this can be remedied Messrs Jones & Patterson of Salem write in reply We have long been aware that undue influence has been exerted in San Francisco to turn the tide of immigration towards the southern portion of California and Arizona and have felt that some measures should be taken to give our State a fair show " Various plans are being discussed to remedy this evil The plan of distributing pamphlets and papers indiscriminately throughout the Eastern States, as done heretofore by some of our citizens seems to have partially failed of its object as the information thus given seldom reached the hands of those coming here, and the plan of opening an office in San Francisco seems equally objectionable as an agent sitting in an office would not see one in a thousand of the 3 000 or more immigrants arriving there weekly but we believe the plan suggested by Mr Dodge of having an agent travel with the immigrants the last day before they reach San Francisco, supplied with proper information which they all would devour with the keenest relish, would be a very effective and perhaps the most economical way to accomplish this desirable object and we hope our citizens will duly consider this important matter

RETURNED HOME —After an absence of nearly a week, Dr Alfred Kinney returned last evening from east of the mountains. Dr Kinney was called suddenly away last week by a telegram to the effect that his father had met with a severe accident near Willow Creek His brother Dr Augustus Kinney also accompanied him Mr R C Kinney was living on his ranch, about 125 miles from the Dalles at the time of the accident A team that he was driving, attached to a large roller took fright and ran off Mr Kinney, who is very large and fleshy, was thrown off and one end of the roller passed over the right leg No bones were broken, but the flesh was badly bruised Fortunately the ground was soft where the roller passed over the limb or else it would have been crushed to a jelly The leg was carefully dressed, and the old gentleman rendered as comfortable as possible under the circumstances — Dr Augustus Kinney was left behind to bestow the necessary medical attention. The injured man will probably not be able to walk again for some weeks

CLOSING SERVICES OF THE BISHOP SCOTT GRAMMAR AND DIVINITY SCHOOL —The closing exercises of this institution began yesterday with a two days written examination On Friday the exercises are public Oral examinations through the day from 9 A M to 3 P M Friday evening, from 7½ P M, is devoted to the Rector's address literary exercises, awarding prizes etc. On this evening will be the competitive speaking for the Deady Medal and the reading of the prize essays on the ' Early History of the Pacific Coast ' The exercises, to which all friends of the school are invited, will be held in the summer room of the institution

BRIDGE ACROSS THE WILLAMETTE —The evening cotemporary says: Since the arrival of Mr Reid, of Dundee, Scotland, but little has been said or done so far as the public are aware concerning his views of the matter. To-day we learned from a party who claims to know only by hearsay that this gentleman is much pleased with the prospect, and will return and his friends to form a company and build the bridge with as little delay as possible. There is nothing said as to the exact location of the bridge but it is fair to presume that it will be placed at the point authorized by the Government officials before whom the surveys and plans were originally laid

WHARF RAISED —Last winter a large wharf boat broke from her moorings by the violence of a gale a few miles below Wallula and was drifted on the rocks and sunk About two weeks ago Mr Holland chief builder for the O S N Co, went up for the purpose of raising the sunken craft He succeeded in accomplishing the difficult task beyond his expectations In a few days the wharf boat was beached repaired launched and towed up to Wallula This wharf boat is 150 feet long, 30 feet wide and has 7 feet hold

CASES COME UP —The cases of the two men who were arrested on Monday charged with illegal voting will come up for trial in the Police Court this morning These parties' names are J Reed (a colored man) and J Donaldson. Reed, it is claimed attempted to vote when he had not resided in the county long enough to entitle him to do so Donaldson who had received his first papers a few months ago, also attempted to vote but was prevented Both parties were admitted to bail An examination of the cases will take place this morning

WITH A VENGEANCE —Both the Columbia and Wallamet rivers are still coming up with a vengeance. The Wallamet has began to ... its boundaries, encroach on its banks and overflow the lowlands Eight feet more and the water will be in Front street at the Stark street ferry landing Annually large quantities of strawberries are destroyed from inundation by the Columbia Should the rivers continue to rise, it is more than probable that immense quantities of these berries will be destroyed

GONE BELOW —Mr E J Crowell who until recently was connected with Madame Phelps troupe, will take his departure for San Francisco on the outgoing steamer This gentleman has been one of the leading actors in Mrs Phelps' troupe, and although appearing but a few times before the Portland public, he has made a favorable impression Mr Crowell has been connected with the dramatic profession for some years and is an actor of much ...ience.

SOON READY —The tug Astoria concerning which so much has been written, will soon be ready to resume towing The boiler and steam connections are about ready and will be placed in the hull in a few days By the 10th of the month it is thought the tug will be in condition to make the trial trip In every respect she will be as good and serviceable as when first launched from the ways

STEAMER WELCOME —Work has progressed quite rapidly on the new craft but still considerable remains to be done The boiler has not been placed in the hull, nor the steam connections made. The wood work has not been completed and will require several weeks yet From present appearances the Welcome will not be in readiness to make the trial trip before the first of July

MATTIE MACLEAY —This barkentine arrived here yesterday morning from Honolulu in tow of the tug Merrimac The Mattie Macleay brought a large quantity of sugar, molasses and tropical fruits She made a very fair passage from the Islands to this port Good weather and favorable winds were encountered through all the voyage At present the barkentine is discharging cargo at Flanders' wharf

FOR SITKA —The steamer California sailed hence for Sitka on Monday evening She carried away a few passengers and a very fair freight. But comparatively few persons left for Stikine, the recent unfavorable news having caused many to change their minds who contemplated going to the mines

DEATH OF MRS WILLSON —Mrs C A Willson relict of the late Dr. Willson of Salem died yesterday evening at 6 o'clock, at the residence of her son in law Mr J K Gill. The remains will be taken to Salem for interment on Thursday's train Prayers will be held at the residence, corner of First and Colt... at 6:30 A. M, Thursday

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Ladies' Battle" and "Marriage at Any Price" were presented last evening at Oro Fino Theater, to a fair audience who evidently enjoyed the excellent acting of all the members of Madame Phelps' troupe The managress appeared in both plays and of course gave the greatest satisfaction Simms was as usual—in his happiest mood, and kept the audience in good humor throughout the entire evening The election excitement is over, and our theater goers can offer no excuse now for neglecting to patronize Oro Fino during the stay of this talented company A bill of rare excellence will be offered this evening, in which all the members will appear The beautiful drama of the "Actress by Daylight," and the farce of ' Dumb Belle ' will constitute the programme We hope to see the house comfortably filled Do not fail to go

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Patronize the Theater

No vessels reported off the Bar

The ice factory is again in operation

The Crusaders were out in full force yesterday

Everybody is engaged in figuring up election returns

City Hall's will give their picnic on Thursday next

The rowing clubs are out almost every evening practicing,

Election is now over and everybody is catching their breath

The Tenino and Fannie Troup are the only boats running above Oregon City

The Base ball and croquet season seems to open very tardily this year

All kinds of flowers are in full bloom and the air is burdened with sweetness

A man had his foot run over on Monday by a passing express wagon and badly crushed

The St Michael's College now has a complete telegraph apparatus for the use of the students

The election passed off remarkably quiet—scarcely a knock down relieved the monotony of the day

The Catholic library has lately received several additions in the way of new books and periodicals

Cherries have put in a timid appearance They taste well but are not healthy to tender persons

The remains of the unknown man found down the river near Rainier a few days ago were buried yesterday.

Chas McLaughlin who was arrested on Monday for assault and battery will be tried in the Police Court this morning

At an election for Captain of the Actives B B Club of St Michael's College, Ir Brown was elected to the post by a majority of seven

Picnics are all the rage just at present, and hundreds of persons delight to leave the city for a day to revel amid the cool streams and shady groves

A benzined individual came into the city yesterday morning and desired to exercise the highest prerogative of American citizenship He didn't vote

The bottom lands along the Columbia river are almost wholly covered by water and in many cases the farmers have been compelled to leave their residences and seek temporary shelter upon the high lands

The little child which arrived at this port on the steamship John L Stephens last week suffering from small pox, and which was immediately sent to the pest house is said to be getting along very nicely and there is every prospect that in a few days the child will be discharged cured,

The Archangle says: 'The following boys of the College sang at the Catholic Church during last month every Monday Wednesday and Friday Organist C Malarkey E Hanley and N Norton sang the duets and solos, with the following regular chorus C Hogan J McCormick J Carol P Horrell J Malarkey H Herman D Malarkey, P O Connor P Maher J Mergens I Hogan For the short practicing time, they sang very creditably and deserve the thanks of the entire congregation for their efforts "

PICNICS.

Should the weather prove favorable the City Rifles will give their annual picnic to morrow, (Thursday), at Pleasant Grove several miles above the city on the eastern bank of the Willamette river Thorough and complete arrangements have been made by the company for the accommodation of all who shall attend A bright pleasant day is all that is required to insure the entire success of the affair Brass and string bands have been engaged to furnish good music during the day At 9 o'clock the steamer E N Cooke will leave the O S S Co's wharf at the foot of F street and come up to the O S N Co s at the foot of Ash Then the steamer will lash on to a large commodious barge and start for the picnic grounds Persons can suit their convenience about getting aboard Those who live in the lower portion of the city can take the steamer at the lower dock, and those residing in the central or southern part can get on board at the O S N Co's wharf There will not be a moment's delay and excursionists must not procrastinate The Cooke will leave the Steamship Company's dock at precisely 9 A M , and the O S N Co's wharf at 9 15

FESTIVALS.

This (Wednesday) evening the ladies of the First Baptist Church will give a strawberry and ice cream festival in the basement of the building The ice cream used on this occasion will be made by the ladies and it will doubtless be of a very superior quality During the evening those who attend will be entertained by various choice selections of vocal and instrumental music A pleasant time may be anticipated

UNION TEMPERANCE MEETING.

One of the ladies of the Prayer League arose to say that she wished to reply to a charge that met them in many places in relation to their being paid Such was not the case, nothing she thought could tempt any one to such an act of blasphemy as being paid to pray when it was not an utterance of the heart They were paid not in the coin of the realm but in the rejoicing of the redeemed—as she happened that day to know in the person of one who had long been a drunkard and who this hour rejoiced in his abstinence and his family also although in pain and gave thanks Another read from the Temperance Almanac its article Lost or Stolen'—a man's reputation his manhood his talents his time his friends his fortune A lady read a letter from home in which the liquor men joined in an election against license Mr Royal also read one in which about 100 saloons were closed and no liquors had been found in the town for nearly two months Mr Royal also had one from Lincoln Nebraska in which the writer hoped that the recipient was either President Secretary or Captain of a company The town Council had adopted a special ordinance and the ladies had taken up new regulations which rather improved their former operations and made the new rules useless Another spoke of the reply that often came to them while they strove to combat the disorder and other things that come of drinking—representing theirs as the model saloon—where nothing of the kind ever happened but she wanted to know where it all came from? Somebody's saloon and for all she knew it must mean everybody's for she had not heard of its coming from any other place than saloons There was no terror to a wife so terrible as drunkenness—as she happened to know in the case of one who was now present but who recently had that terror taken from her in the reclamation of her husband And yet another spoke of her boy brother who went to the war Once he came home but they could not get him to tell how he felt in a battle At last he came home with a scar but the secret was with him yet and the mark upon him for life She could not tell them how she felt when she was before a saloon praying The feeling continued from day to day—each the same no transient flame but enduring as the mountains She would be as easy to drive as Mt Hood and about as hard to get out of the way Another woman said people wanted them to wait awhile They were not ready When would they be ready ? While they play cards and drink they never will be ready —neither are we ready to have our sons made drunkards of We want like them to wait awhile for that The old lady who presided said their faces were pretty familiar to most of the saloonists One advised them the other day ' Better go and die for you are about as well fitted for it as you ever will be She thought it might be so they had a little while to wait yet, and to fill up the time they would 'keep on praying ' On last Saturday one of the League had obtained 22 names to the pledge and advised those who wanted to drink, to go down cellar to do it where no one could see them

The meeting was suddenly brought to a close and the whole company resorted to the auditorium above to witness the wedding ceremony the notice of which you will doubtless read this morning

LATE DECISIONS BY STATE MASTERS.

We clip the following decisions of Masters of State Granges, from the Willamette Farmer.

Members not clear on the books should not be given the annual word.

A Past Master has the same rights as any other member, and no more.

Granges cannot constitutionally refund or remit any part of the iniation fees.

A Subordinate Grange cannot change the by-law requiring money to accompany the petition.

A Grange cannot take a note for fees or vote back any fees after they have once been paid in.

Standing committees on applications are illegal; all committees on applications must be special.

Rituals are not to be distributed among the different members of the Grange, but to be kept by one officer.

No dispensation can be filled out after the application has been sent off by the Deputy.

Every candidate for initiation must be balloted for, whether the Committee reports pro or con.

When the M. and O. are both absent a P. M. should take the chair, if there be one present. If none, then elect a Master pro tem. There is no authority to make the Stewart Master, and he is out-ranked by the Lecturer.

A Grange cannot change its place of meeting into the jurisdiction of another Grange without obtaining the consent of the Grange in whose jurisdiction they propose to hold the meetings.

When persons from one jurisdiction are taken into another Grange without consent, the Grange whose territory was encroached on may claim the fees, but the other Grange retains the member.

I do not hold that a true patron must forever be a farmer. If his record remains good, he has a perfect right to follow any honorable occupation. If a Deputy knowingly admits at the time of organization, as Charter Members, of a Grange shall admit by initiation a dealer in intoxicating liquors or an habitual drunkard, said Deputy shall, upon complaint, be subject to be deprived of his commission, and said Grange to the surrender of its charter.

Dimits.—They cannot be withheld from members in good standing whose dues are paid. Any person making application for membership on dimit and rejected may renew the application immediately to that or any other Grange. A member is not out on dimit until it is signed by the Master and Secretary and delivered, and proper fees paid. A Grange can be reduced to seven members by dimit. The proper officers are obliged to sign dimits granted at regular meetings of the Grange, if the person applying is in good standing and clear on the books. Parties dimitted can join any Grange they choose, subject to such examination and ballot as new applicants.

M. E. Hudson, of the Kansas State Grange, has delivered the following interesting and exhaustive decision on territory: "No Grange can be organized nearer to an existing Grange than the constitutional limit, except where natural obstructions intervene, such as a stream that cannot be crossed all times, the facts to be stated in the petition, and the written consent of the Grange or Granges encroached upon, to be obtained at a regular meeting of said Grange or Granges, and consent of the Master of the State Grange. The distance in fenced districts to be recognized by the usual traveled route, in unfenced or open districts, by straight or air lines. Granges shall at the time of organization, establish their center of jurisdiction, and shall have no right to change the same. They can only claim half the distance from such centre to surrounding Granges. A Grange, after establishing its jurisdiction can hold its meetings anywhere inside of said jurisdiction."

"A BOLT ALWAYS IN ORDER."

Squills declares that his wife is always taking some kind of mean advantage of him. "The best woman in the world, sir," says Squills, "but now and then she will act mean, and she can't help it."

"Last Saturday, at breakfast," said Squills, she was as smiling as a bundle of chips.

"Are your chops done to your liking, Squills, dear?"

"Delicious, my love."

"I broiled them myself, dear."

"I knew it was going to be cold," said Squills, "and when I got into the hall to leave Mrs. Squills was there with my hat in one hand, and my overcoat in the other."

"Squills, dear," she began.

"I thought it time to pitch in here," said Squills, "so I said quietly, 'How much, Mrs. Squills? Out with it, my love.'"

"Mr. Squills," said she, "don't be unmanly, sir, I beg; not to say ridiculous. Gussy wants a new silk dress to go to church in; the poor child really isn't decent—you are very sorry; well, so you ought to be. 'Let her say her prayers at home.' No, Mr. Squills, she shan't stay at home, and she shan't say her prayers; and, Mr. Squills,' you're enough to aggravate a saint, and your conduct is disgusting, and is enough to drive a woman to bolt right off to Chicago and get a divorce."

"I thought this was a good time to fire off my pet joke," said Squills; "so I said, 'Mrs. Squills, a bolt is always in order.' Then I bolted myself, for Mrs. Squills comes of a fighting family.

"When I went home at night, Gussy, dear child, played all my pet Offenbach music, and I knew I was in for the dress, only I wanted to hold out till morning, just for the look of the thing."

"For five years after we were married," said Squills," Mrs. S. would persist in looking under the bed for a man. It's the same man every woman looks for, I 'spose, because they all do it. Well, failing to find the man, Mrs. Squills finally gave him up in disgust, and took to something else, I 'spose," said Squills; "they all take to something else after they can't find the man under the bed. Mrs. Squills' weakness is bolting the door. 'Mr. Squills, have you bolted the door?' is always the last thing at night."

"This particular night," said Squills. "Mrs. S. was very dignified and distant. 'No familiarities, Mr. Squills, if you please; you wounded my feelings in their tenderest point this morning, and I can not forget, though you did, that I am your wife, sir, and the mother of your children, Mr. Squills.'"

"This was pitching in uncommonly strong, you know," said Squills, "and I was about to surrender, when Mrs. Squills turned off the gas and then coiled herself up in a pet, somewhere on the outside bed-rail. Not even, 'Good night, Squills.' I felt pretty bad about it. I can tell you, but I went to sleep. I don't know how long I slept, but some time, when I experienced a kick in the back, as if a playful mule had been fanning me. Perhaps it was necessary, as I always slept hard."

"'Mr. Squills,' at last I heard her say, 'Mr. Squills, have you bolted the door?'"

"Now, leave it to any man," said Squills, apparently, "whether this is the correct thing for a mother of a family to do. Of course I got up and bolted the door, and I said: 'Mrs. Squills, why the deuce didn't you think of bolting the door before I went to sleep, and not wake up a man in the middle of a cold night to do it?' And what do you suppose the answer was?"

"'Why, Mr. Squills,' said she, 'I thought a bolt was always in order.'

"What did I say? What, could I say? And the worst of it all," said Squills, "I'll be hanged if she wasn't laughing at me; I could feel the bed shaking."—St. Louis Republican.

PIETY KNOCKED INTO PI.—Horace Greeley used to affirm that newspaper men were the most patient people, as a class, on earth, and he was not far from right, though there are times when patience ceases to be a virtue with the most enduring. Nearly everybody in the western part of the State knows Burr, who used to start a newspaper about once the year round, generally bringing them out in Grand Rapids, but sometimes making a flying trip to other points. Burr could stand to be told that he lied about his circulation, was on the fence as a politician, and that he didn't know anything about publishing a newspaper, and when men threatened to sue or thrash him he only smiled a sad smile and wished that mankind wouldn't get excited. During a religious revival in Grand Rapids, Burr was converted, and it frequently happened that religious people called at his office to talk with him. One day a minister came in, and after talking for a while he proposed prayer. He was in the act of kneeling when his foot struck one of the outside forms, which was leaning against a leg of the stone, ready to be lifted up, and over it went, making half a bushel of "pi." Burr looked at the ruin wrought, thought of the two weeks of overwork, and commenced talking off his coat, saying "I'm trying to be a Christian and set a good example, but rat my buttons if I can't lick you in just two minutes!" The clergyman backed down stairs in no time, dodging the lye brush on the way, and Burr ... and sent down for a pint of ...—Detroit Free Press.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TUESDAY EVENING, June 2, 1874.

Gold in New York, 112½.

Portland Legal Tenders, buying 89, selling 90.

Gold bars are quotable at 725a750 fine.

Exchange on New York, ½ per cent. premium for currency, and one per cent. premium for gold.

Exchange on San Francisco at ¾ of 1 per cent. premium.

Wheat in Liverpool, by mail advices from San Francisco, 12s 6d a 12s 9d for average California, and 12s 9d a 13s for club.

The local money market is devoid of important events to-day, other questions absorbing the public interest to a great extent. The banking institutions in this city are well supplied with funds, and borrowers who offer prime security are freely accommodated on favorable terms. Outside parties are also putting considerable sums on the market at better rates than have been generally prevalent, while merchants and traders seem in no strait as to funds to carry forward their business. Collectors report a fair degree of ease in the general market.

The question as to whether the transfer of the Secretaryship at Washington from Richardson to Bristow will be followed by any radical change in the management of Governmental finances is one which cannot be definitely answered at this time, as the new Secretary has not been heretofore in a position where his views were prominently brought before the public. He is, however, of a school of politics generally presumed to be opposed to the inflation ideas of Mr. Richardson.

The Senate currency bill, now in the hands of a Conference Committee in Congress, has induced the apprehension that the provisions of the bill concerning reserves would cause serious trouble in New York. It has been shown that the amount that it would compel city and country banks to withdraw from New York is $11,501,96. This would be partly replaced by the decrease of $15,805,237 in the reserve to be kept in New York, but the net withdrawal of $25,753,... from New York, it is said by the bankers referred to, would paralyze the trade of that city to an extent that could not fail to be felt here. The withdrawal of country deposits would occur when money is most active in New York. On the other hand, the bank statements of February 27th showed that that the New York banks held $75,200,000 of lawful money and its representatives, or $31,700,000 more than would be required under the proposed law. This would enable them to meet the drain, and still have a surplus for active circulation.

Freights and Shipping.

Since our last report we note no particular change in the prospects for shipping facilities for our large grain crop. We are in receipt of information of about fifteen vessels under charter to load with the new crop, and doubtless others are coming. The San Francisco Herald of the 28th ult says: "The advanced stage of the season and the present shortness of the wheat supply prevents the consummation of wheat charters to any extent. Any vessels to arrive within the next thirty days will doubtless wait for the new crop in July. The last spot engagement of which we have any knowledge was at £3 18s to the United Kingdom, and £2 to the Europe-an continent 5s additional. Our readers are aware that a fleet of upward of fifty vessels, or large carrying capacity, are already under charter to arrive for the new crop, the same having been taken up at £4 4s 5s. At this writing, there is very little disengaged tonnage in port, and the outlook for the next twelvemonth is quite flattering to ship-owners. The Antipodes lays over for the new crop."

Home Produce Market.

The excitement of the past few days has prevented the attention to the departments of trade which their important relation to the interests of the country demand. To-day, however, things begin to settle somewhat and business will soon resume and flow on in the ordinary channels.

In the grain trade we find no important change since our last report, wheat being very quiet, but firm, while oats are weaker and 40 cents ₱ bushel is now about the best offer. A large lot of the latter would be difficult to place as the demand is limited to the home trade. Bacon still comes down the Columbia in considerable quantities and is dull as before. Butter is in full supply, while eggs are scarce and in brisk demand at 18@20 cents. Wool is coming to hand in increased quantities and competition among buyers is active. Some choice lots have sold at 26@27 cts ₱ lb, but they were extra and a fair quotation for good quality would not range above 25 cts. We would urge upon sheep raisers the policy of cleaning their wool well and packing it neatly and compactly, as they will certainly gain enough in selling to remunerate them for their trouble.

European Wheat Trade.

We are in receipt of Beerbohm's London Trade List of May 1st, from which we learn that during the week ending the day noted, the weather was moderately favorable to growing crops, though dry east winds, which have the same effect in England that our desiccating north winds have in California, had prevailed to some extent, causing fears of partial drouth. Imports of wheat into the United Kingdom during the week under notice were very light, amounting to but 356,930 cwt., against 586,377 cwt. the previous week. On May 1st there were 259 cargoes of Wheat on passage to the United Kingdom, computed to carry 1,198,000 quarters, against 272 vessels the same time in 1873. In London, California cargoes, December bills lading, were offered at 62s, and for shipment to the end of 1874, cargoes were 54s. 6d., California terms for orders. According to the List, an abundant crop was expected in this State in the trade at Liverpool and London.

The London and Liverpool Wheat markets had been quiet, with small variations. In France prices of Wheat had given way, on an inactive market. In Germany, the trade, after having been firm and rather active, had become dull and quiet. In Holland, under the influence of fine growing weather, trade had been slow at lower prices. In Hungary and Austria the weather had been dry in wheat producing districts, which had caused a slight advance at Pesth. In Italy, trade was animated, and the market had a firm tone. At Odessa, trade was quiet. Supplies from the interior had begun to arrive, and the quality of the grain was fine.

FROM BUCK'S BAR.

The following communication was written by a gentleman from Buck's Bar, under date of May 18th. He says:

On May 2d we embarked in a large canoe from Fort Wrangell, and by favorable winds and hard work reached, in eight days, the Hudson Bay Company's Post 80 miles from Wrangell. At this place we were overhauled by Johnny Bull's Custom House official, ... he "went through" us for about half ... were worth. When we started from the Hudson Bay's Post, we hired a couple of Indians to assist in the propelling of our craft the remainder of the passage to Buck's Bar. After traveling until 5 o'clock in the afternoon the Indians announced that they were afraid to go any farther. We held a consultation and concluded to return, ... headed her down stream and in 52 minutes drifted back to H. B. Post, from where we had been all day in making. We then concluded that we had had about enough of canoeing up the Stickine, and decided to wait the return of the Glenora and finish the trip by steamer. While stopping at the H. B. Post there were about 50 men arrived from Fort Wrangell in canoes bound for Buck Bar, most of whom like ourselves, stopped and took the steamer from that point; among them was a reporter of the California Alta. He took his shovel and pick and went prospecting ... he there, but did not "strike a lead" ...

There were also quite a number of men passed down while we were waiting here, but they brought nothing very startling from the interior. After a detention of about four days we started per steamer Glenora at 1 P. M., on May 17th, made a fifty-mile wood pile at 9, took on a full load of wood, after which we ran until 10:40, when the darkness made it necessary to "tie up." I am not particularly fond of early rising, but having been told that the "Hyas Canyon" was close at hand, and we would pass through the first thing in the morning, and wishing to see her go through I was out at 3:50 A. M., with the first turn of the wheel. But we did not get to the canyon until 8. At 6:30 all hands and the cook were called on the bank to receive an appetite for their breakfast, by cutting cordwood enough to carry her through the canyon, in which sport captain, crew and passengers joined. In the canyon the water was found very swift. The narrowest place I think was about 70 feet, and the current, I should judge, was running about 9 or 10 miles with a fall of about ... to the mile. But the Glenora has a good driving power, and with 122 pounds of steam she climbed nobly and victoriously through the "Hyas Canyon." A few miles further up, we passed through a smaller canyon of much less furious and turbulent water, and upon inquiry, I was informed it was called "Klootchman Canyon." I had seen about the toughest water the ... to be contended with. But at about ... came to something that took the shine off all the steamboating that there has yet been witnessed by me. I have followed steamboating for an occupation for six or eight years, but when we came to a place where ... boat with a ... pounds of steam had to ... five hundred feet of line ahead and make it fast to a tree, and then the passengers at the windlass and wind it on, ... to ... the steamer over the riffle, I own that I had seen all that there was to be seen in steamboating. At 9:40 P. M. ... we have ... and the steamer departs too soon for ... learn any intelligence from the interior ... ward by this communication.
